From the Desk of the Director

Have you ever heard the saying "these are the best of times and the worst of times?" Many might say that the last decade has brought some of the biggest difficulties, obstacles, stresses and struggles for individuals and families in our world, country and right here in our local Saginaw community. Loss of jobs, health insurance, security, home foreclosure and retirement investments have had an impact on all of us in some given way. Times are tough.

We can dwell on our hardships or we can choose to make our world a better place to live, learn and love what we do. Focusing on the purpose and cause is what makes most non-profit organizations successful. Behind every good cause are the positive people who want to take action to make a difference. These people cultivate a positive emotion and seek change so that they themselves and others can achieve successful opportunities despite the challenges that surround them.

READ is fortunate to be surrounded by positive people. If you are reading this newsletter you are doing your part to help us achieve the "best of times." YOU value your own ability to read and support helping others learn to read with your volunteer time and/or your financial resources. We certainly value your support!

Our ultimate goal: To help children improve their reading skills and discover the joy of reading ... this is the best of times. Here's to a new decade ... one filled with peace, hope, books, knowledge ... and opportunities for children to read today, tomorrow and for a lifetime.

Director

Mentoring Moments

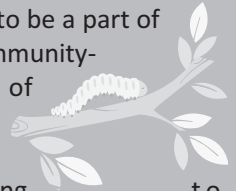

SS. Peter & Paul READ Volunteers and Students enjoy their time with a RIF book distribution day in February. READ volunteers have mentored students for MANY years at SS. Peter & Paul. We extend our thanks for their dedication and are glad many will continue on at other READ centers next year. This will be the last year for the SS. Peter & Paul READ center due to the school closing.

Send in photos of YOUR year end READ gatherings and we may include some in our June newsletter. Please contact the office, 755-8402, or by email, for photo release forms.

Experience the Great Outdoors... Reconnect Children with Nature

The READ Association of Saginaw County is pleased to be a part of the Saginaw community-wide initiative of organizations, businesses and individuals working together to promote local programs and resources that will help children and families spend more time outdoors, a No Child Left Inside initiative. All children should have access, opportunities and encouragement to play outdoors and connect with nature for their physical, emotional and educational well being. Despite advances in public health and medicine, children are developing chronic health conditions, such as obesity and depression, earlier and more frequently than ever before. Research shows that the decline in children's health is linked in part to their growing disconnect from nature and outdoor play.

Research shows that children who play outside:

- Are healthier physically and mentally
- Have more active creative imaginations
- Are more cooperative with others
- Are good problem solvers
- Show fewer signs of obesity
- Have higher self-esteem
- Do better in school
- Have improved attention spans and test scores
- Are engaged in helping protect our natural resources and environment
